VOL. VI.....NO. 1576. NEW-YORK, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1856. PRICE, TWO CENTS.

INTERESTING FROM WASHINGTON.

A Terrific Time at "Ninety-Six," S. C.—The Ovation to Preston S. Brooks.

A Minister Dismissed for Preaching Anti-Slavery Doctrines.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 6.

The ovation on Friday last to PRESTON S. BROOKS, at "Ninety-Six," S. C., was one of the most remarkable demonstrations of the Presidential campaign. The people turned out in vast numbers. So large an assemblage has not occurred in that section of the State for many years.

The speeches which were made by BROOKS, BUTLER, TOOMBS, McDUGWAN and Gov. ADAMS were marked by a spirit of rabid disunion.

Two goblets—one gold and one silver—and two canes were presented to the hero of the day.

It was a terrific affair altogether.

The Unitarian Church yesterday dismissed their pastor, Rev. MONCURE D. CONWAY, on account of his having preached against Slavery. It was done by a small majority. Some of the Anti-Slavery members were absent from the city. ZETA.

The Expected Duel between Messrs. Botts and Pryor.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 6.

A telegraphic dispatch has been received here to-day from Richmond, stating that Mr. B. B. BOTTS and Mr. PRYOR had left there for this vicinity to fight a duel. The Police are on the look out for them.

WASHINGTON, Monday, Oct. 6—P. M.

Messrs. BOTTS and PRYOR, with their seconds, are secreted in Washington, eluding the vigilance of the police. Arrangements have been made for the hostile meeting to-morrow morning.

Town Elections in Connecticut.

HARTFORD, Conn., Monday, Oct. 6.

The editor of the Times (Buchanan) informs us that he has returns from thirty-one towns in the State, which voted for town officers to-day. The Buchanan men have carried twenty-three of these, and the Fremonters eight. As compared with last year's returns the Democrats have made a net gain of eight towns.

NEW-HAVEN, Monday, Oct. 6.

Town Elections have been held to-day in about half of the State. The selectmen chosen are inspectors of elections, as well as general town officers. But few returns have yet been received. They are as follows:

East-Haven—(disputed.)

Waterbury—BUCHANAN and FILLMORE 83 majority.

Madison and Meriden—each FREMONT by 100 majority.

North Branford, Naugatuck and Guilford—all FREMONT—the latter by 100 majority.

Hampden and Wallingford—Democratic by reduced majorities.

Middletown—Democratic by 180 majority.

Cheshire—Reported Democratic.

New-London—FREMONT by 200 majority.

These returns indicate an increased opposition vote over last year.

BRIDGEPORT, Monday, Oct. 6.

In the city election here, to-day, the fusion ticket, FILLMORE and Democratic, elected their Mayor by 68 majority, and the Council by an average majority of about 30. The Republicans elected their City Clerk by a majority of 78.

We have returns from forty-nine towns. FREMONT carries twenty-eight and the Democrats twenty-one. The gains are equally divided between the two parties.

NEW-LONDON, Monday, Oct. 6.

At our election for town officers, to-day, the Republican ticket was elected by a majority from 140 to 300 over the Democratic ticket. PIERCE's majority in 1852 was 322. Norwich, Groton, Montville, Waterford and East Lyme have all gone Republican.

Election in Upper Michigan.

NEW-ORLEANS, Monday, Oct. 6.

By the arrival of the steamer Brazos we have Santiago dates to the 27th of September. VIDAURRI had been defeated in an attempt to invade San Luis Potosi, and also in an attack upon Mier.

Maretzek's Concert.

The resources of a man of talent are beyond the control of shareholders. He is never utterly prostrated, but bends to the wind with native elasticity and grace. Only last week Mr. MARETZEK took his leave of the Academy of Music, and people despairingly believed that he had retired to private life, and that romantic farm which is supposed to be located on the oyster side of Staten Island. But in a moment he vaults from the quiet precincts of Fourteenth-street to the busy thoroughfare of Broadway, and bâton in hand, enchants his wonted sway.

The City Assembly Room—where Mr. MARETZEK's last brilliant night—is a remarkably handsome room, in an excellent location; a little too much down town, perhaps, but good for convenience in ear-conversions. Music wanted a New line concerts to give it character and musical importance, and to make it known to the public. Mr. MARETZEK is likely to effect this object, and a large portion of the public will thank him for making them acquainted with an elegant and cheerful salle de concert. Its appearance last night was brilliant and the impression created favorable.

The programme offered by Mr. MARETZEK was superb. The first part consisted solely of selections from the "Trovatore" rendered by Mesdames LA GRANGE, and ADELAINE PHILLIPS, and Messrs. COLLETTI, BRIGNOLI, and ANODIO, with full chorus and orchestra. These artists have made the reputation of the opera in this country, and it is only necessary to say they preserved it last night in a creditable manner. A complete and richly colored sketch of the opera was presented to the audience, and thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed. It is impossible to desire a more satisfactory way of hearing these works, unless you resort to the theatre which is of course their proper sphere. In the second part we had the overture to "Massaniello," excellently played by the orchestra; the La Grange polka, vocalized by Madame LA GRANGE in her usual astonishing manner; the "Brindisi" from "Rigoletto" sung by Signor CHERSA and deservedly encored; a trio by BEETHOVEN played by the Brothers MOLLENHAUER; Casta Diva, from "Norma," sung by Madame LA GRANGE; Non più Mesta, sung by Miss ADELAIDE PHILLIPS, who possesses a delicious concert voice, and sung remarkably well throughout the evening, and the Finale to the third act of "Rienzi," rendered by Madame LA GRANGE, Signors CHERSA, ANODIO, COLLETTI and full chorus. The performance of all these pieces was admirable, and we are sure that nothing superior has ever been heard in a concert-room. The only drawback to an otherwise thoroughly enjoyable evening's entertainment was in the awkward location of the orchestra, the effect of which was sadly marred by the drawing-room musicians of the gallery, under which it was placed. Something should be done to prevent this.

The next Concert will take place on Wednesday. We strongly commend it to the attention of our readers.

CITY POLITIC

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

Congressional, Assembly, Charter and Others.

HARMONY PREVAILS.

Last evening the Republicans of the City of New-York held Primary meetings in all the Wards for the purpose of electing delegates to the City and County Convention, to the Congressional Conventions, Justice Convention, Assembly Convention and Charter Conventions. With but few exceptions the very best of feeling prevailed, and there was very little opposition. The result so far as can be known with any degree of certainty is as follows:

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES.

The Third Congressional District, composed of the First, Second, Third, Fifth and Eighth Wards, tickets in each Ward, favoring the reélection of GUY R. PELTON, were elected with but slight opposition, and that only in one or two of the Wards.

In the Fourth Congressional District, the ticket elected was understood to favor the nomination of Dr. WATERMAN, of the Tenth Ward.

In the Fifth Congressional District, composed in part of the Seventh and Thirteenth Wards, there was no opposition to the tickets elected, and no preference for candidates was stated.

In the Sixth Congressional District, composed of the Eleventh, Fifteenth and Seventeenth Wards, double tickets were run. In the Eleventh and Seventeenth Wards, the delegates are understood to be in favor of THOMAS B. STILLMAN, of the firm of STILLMAN, ALLEN & Co. of the Novelty Works. The first choice of the delegates of the Fifteenth Ward seems to be WILLIAM CURTIS NOYES.

In the Seventh Congressional District, comprising the Ninth, Sixteenth and Twentieth Wards, the tickets elected in the Ninth and Twentieth Wards, favors the nomination of Gen. JAMES W. NYE. The ticket elected in the Sixteenth Ward favors the nomination of LUMAN SHERWOOD.

In the Eighth Congressional District, composed of the Twelfth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second Wards, there was a general feeling in favor of AMRAM WAKEMAN for Congress. General unanimity prevailed in the elections to the Nominating Convention.

ASSEMBLY NOMINATIONS.

In but few cases was there any preference understood as existing in the minds of those elected to these Conventions. In the First and Second Wards there was no understanding in favor of any candidate. In the Third and Sixth Wards tickets favoring the nomination of MOSELEY LYONS were elected. In the Eighth Ward a ticket favoring the nomination of MORRIS DE CAMP was elected almost unanimously. In the Twentieth Ward a ticket was elected favoring the nomination of JOHN G. MCADAM. In the Fifteenth Ward WM. H. ANTHON appeared to be the favorite. In the Tenth Ward ALEXANDER WOLF was the favored candidate.

In all the Wards delegates to Assembly Conventions were elected, but no preferences were expressed.

THE CITY AND COUNTY CONVENTION.

Delegates to the City and County Convention were elected in all the Wards, with but little opposition. With regard to the City and County nominations, particularly that of Mayor, it is hinted that, certain circumstances, existing no nominations will be made. This was the impression at a large majority of the primary meetings last evening. In the Fourth Ward JAMES DEPEYSTER OGDEN, HAMILTON FISH and SIDNEY DRAPER were mentioned. In the Tenth Ward ANTHONY J. BLEECKER seemed to be the favorite. In the Eleventh Ward ANTHONY J. BLEECKER and Hon. JAS. R. WHITING had friends. Mr. BLEECKER is also the favorite of the Twelfth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Nineteenth Wards. In the Eighteenth Ward ex-Mayor HAVEMEYER was understood to be favored by the Delegates, but ISAAC O. BARKER and Hon. JAMES R. WHITING were also spoken of.

CHARTER CONVENTIONS.

Delegates were elected to all the Charter Conventions, but it is difficult to state, at present, what candidates for Aldermen and Councilmen have a good prospect of success. In the Third Ward there was considerable opposition between the friends of the memorable Ex-Alderman STURTEVANT and Mr. MARSHALL. The Sturtevant ticket was elected, but, as is charged, in violation of all understood rules for the government of the meeting. It was said that many men were brought in by STURTEVANT's friends, and their ballots received, who were not members of any Republican Association, and who had not previously expressed themselves in favor of Republican principles. In the Ninth Ward, the ticket elected is unanimous in favor of the nomination of Mr. VOORHIS, present Alderman of the Ward.

Most of the Conventions to which the candidates were elected last evening will be held at an early day.

The K. N. Municipal Nominations.

The American Party last night held their Conventions, for the nominations of Mayor, City Judge, Corporation Counsel, and Governor of the Almshouse. The nomination for Mayor took place at the Rooms, corner of Broadway and Lispenard-street. According to outside preferences, if the cheers that were raised by those who were not delegates were any indication, ZOPHAR MILLS and MERWIN R. BEEBEE were the favorite candidates.

Inside the Convention, however, ISAAC O. BARKER ran ahead from the first start and so continued. The vote on the first ballot stood, we understand, as follows:—BARKER 27; MILLS 11; GENIN 9; BEEBEE 7; cattering 12. There were 66 Delegates, being three rom each Ward. On the second ballot Mr. BARKER received 28 votes, and on the third 31. On the fourth ballot he again received 31 votes, and was finally nominated on the fifth ballot, by 34 votes. It was past midnight before this result was reached.

For Corporation Counsel, LEWIS N. GLOVER was nominated on the first ballot, receiving 36 votes.

[illegible] PIERCE was nominated Governor of the Almshouse without opposition.

The nomination for City Judge took place at the [illegible], current or [illegible] and spirited struggle for a long time the present City Judge CAPHOR's prospects were good. JOHN H. WHITE, however, was nominated. Mr. WHITE ran two years ago, on the Whig and American ticket, for the office of Recorder, and was beaten by JAMES M. SMITH, Jr.

Considerable enthusiasm was manifested at these Conventions, but there was no disturbance of note.

Using all the Material.

Last night Ex-Governor FLOYD was advertised to speak at the same time in New-York, Brooklyn and Williamsburg. Ditto Captain RYNDERS. The other day JOHN VAN BUREN was advertised to speak in Pennsylvania and at a great meeting in Brooklyn. The same night, LORENZO B. SHEPHERD was advertised to speak—it was a week after his death.

Serenade to Ex-Governor Floyd.

Ex-Governor FLOYD, of Virginia, was serenaded last night at the New-York Hotel, by the Empire Club. Capt. RYNDERS addressed the Governor in a characteristic speech, to which Mr. FLOYD responded at some length.

☞ The Niagara—GEORGE STEERS' magnificent Government steamer—will not be ready for her trial trip before the last of November. It is decided that she is to carry twelve immense pivot-guns, each of eleven-inch bore, eleven feet long inside the bore, and weighing 15,000 pounds. These have all been constructed at the West Point foundry, and four of them have already been landed at the yard. The sliding carriages for them are being built in the most approved and thorough manner, the slides being not less than eighteen feet long, and provided with improved concentric rollers. The Niagara's berths are to be fitted for carrying heavy brass guns for shore service.

NEW-YORK CITY.

The First Night of the Evening Schools.

Three hundred and five boys were registered in Mr. GALLAGER's Public Evening School, in the Fourth Ward last night, and 219 in Mrs. LYNCH's (the girls) Department. That will do for the first night.

The Fourth Ward Evening School opened at No. 26 Jersey-street, temporarily—to continue until they get the gas fixtures up in No. 1 William-street.

In the First Ward, 180 entered the Male Department, (Mr. THOS. FANNING's,) and about 100 small boys, who come without their parents, had to go out again. These little fellows, who have nobody to be responsible for them, have before now trotted off with a lot of books, after a night or two. Parents should see with these little fellows the first night, so that the teachers may know that all's right.

In the R. A. Commodore's Department, 120 girls entered.

In the Sixth Ward, the School did not open last night, because the new furniture has not yet come in to No. 19. In the Girls' Department of this Ward, (built in No. 63, Mott-street,) by mistake—unfortunately large for a new school.

Columbia College.

Columbia College opened its new collegiate year yesterday. The present number of Students is as follows: Seniors, 27; Juniors, 16; Sophomores, 44; Freshmen, 46. The Faculty remains unchanged from last year. The present is the last term in which the old College buildings will be used. The venerable seat of learning has at length to succumb to the demands of commerce. In the Spring the College will remove to the old Deaf and Dumb Institute buildings in Fourth-street, and will there remain till the completion of its new buildings, to be erected in Forty-eighth-street, near Fifth-avenue. Where the College now stands are to be built splendid warehouses and stores.

Explosion on Board the Steamboat Isaac P. Smith—Probable Loss of Life.

An explosion occurred on board the steamboat Isaac P. Smith, about 9 o'clock yesterday morning by which three men will undoubtedly lose their lives. The boat was running a trip with the Glen Cove, in place of the Armenia, from New-York to Albany, and by some means, at present unknown, when near Haverstraw, she burst her steam-chest. The engineer and two firemen were dreadfully scalded, being literally flayed alive. It is considered impossible that either of them can recover.

☞ The extensive alterations and additions to Ward School No. 13, in progress for several months past, are now completed, and the School holds its accustomed sessions from 9 o'clock A. M. till 3 P. M. No. 13 now possesses ample accommodations for an increased number of pupils. The class-rooms are large and well ventilated, and the School Building has been furnished throughout with the newest and most approved school furniture. Large additions have also been made to its play-grounds. JOHN H. FANNING is Principal of the Male Department, and Miss ANNA M. MATSON of the Female Department, Miss ELIZA JARVIS of the Primary Department.

Treatment of Yellow Fever Patients.

The following communication was received from Dr. HARRIS, of the Marine Hospital, read, and ordered on file by the Board of Health, yesterday:

MARINE HOSPITAL, QUARANTINE, S. I., Monday, Oct. 6, 1856.

Wm. Rockwell, M. D., Resident Physician, New-York City:

DEAR DOCTOR: I perceive that a private communication which I made to you last week respecting a patient from the Wm. E. Dodge, has been given to the public without my consent, and doubtless without your sanction; and I regret to see that a gentleman who might have remained unknown in connection with the case, has taken umbrage at my note to you, and has appropriated to himself certain remarks which undoubtedly the resident Physician of the City, in the plenitude of his good nature and genial humanity, received from me as intended for the special benefit of the ministers of the public health, and for the welfare of an unfortunate class of the victims of yellow fever, that by failing under the care and treatment of persons who cannot recognize the distinctive characteristics of this fever in its earlier stages, lose forever the golden opportunity for recovering from the malady, and after being tossed about from place to place, finally reach the Quarantine Hospital with black vomit and in a dying condition, as was the man you ordered to the Hospital from the Wm. E. Dodge.

As in this instance the nature of the malady was so unequivocally marked, that no intelligent physician could possibly have mistaken it, we may charitably presume that Dr. MCLAUGHLIN attended some other than the case in question on board the vessel.

It is, dear Doctor, a lamentable fact, that a very large proportion of the deaths from Yellow Fever at this Hospital are in cases which do not reach the Institution until the patient is in the last stages of the disease, with black vomit and lesions past cure.

By whose fault is this neglect and this loss of valuable lives? Certainly not by the neglect or inattention of the Resident Physician of the City; for I am witness to the fact that a man dying of Yellow Fever on board the William E. Dodge, at pier No. 17 East River, was, at the request, and upon the information of a citizen unknown to either him or myself, ordered to the Marine Hospital within ten minutes from the time that information was first received.

Entertaining as I do, a suitable respect for the existing sanitary regulations, and the officers of the Public Health, I venture to express the hope that the City of New-York may soon be furnished with such sanitary laws and provisions, as will render it morally impossible for a case of pestilential disease, to exist for 18 hours in any part of the City, without the knowledge of the chief officers of the Sanitary Bureau of the municipal Government. Respectfully yours,

ELISHA HARRIS, Physician of Marine Hospital.

Cricket.

The match that has been talked of all the season between eleven English players against eighteen American, was commenced yesterday, on the Hoboken ground, and at the close of the day's play each side had got through one innings—Americans, 64; English, 152. Play will be continued to-day, commencing at 10 o'clock, and if the weather is as pleasing as yesterday, a large attendance of lovers of this noble game will be on the ground. The Americans played well considering they are not such old hands as the English—they are somewhat deficient in fielding and bowling. PHELPS, of Utica, is their best bowler, and a very excellent one he is. The bowling of the English was too much for them. The Americans were disappointed of two men from Newark and one from Brooklyn, so they only played fifteen. The English players were Gibbes, Earnshaw, Walker and Sam Wright of St. George's Club; Sharp, Fletcher and Cuyp of New-York Club; Smith and Hobbs of the Albany Club, and Facon of the Philadelphia Club. The Americans were Cutler and Chapin, of Albany; Stedwell, Shoubard and Bashford, of Yonkers; Baker, of Newark; Oddie, of Brooklyn; Richards, Johnson, Kuhn, Howe, J. and W. Wister, of Philadelphia. The Ground Committee of the Hoboken ground seem to forget that they ought to provide some accommodation for the scorers and reporters—no tent, only one small table and two chairs—we think they deserve a better fate.

In Custody.

MIKE MURRAY, of Leonard-street, the backer of KELLY, who was lately killed while engaged in a prize fight with LYNCH, of Water-street, was captured yesterday, and Coroner PERRY held him to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The Late Explosion—Another Death.

JOHN HABERLINE, one of the workmen injured at the explosion and fire in Thirty-sixth-street, on Saturday night week, died of his injuries on Sunday evening. An inquest was held, and a verdict in accordance with the facts rendered. Deceased was a native of Germany.

Fatal Accident.

An unknown man, about 55 years of age, was killed by a fall on board the steamboat Hunchback, on Wednesday night. Deceased had been attending the Buchanan meeting in Po'keepsie. He was somewhat intoxicated, and fell asleep upon a chair, from which he pitched forward down the hatchway, and died immediately afterward from the injuries received.

☞ The ship Ocean Monarch, Capt. PAGE, for Liverpool, completed her loading yesterday. She has the following cargo on board, viz.: One hundred and twenty thousand bushels of wheat and corn, 150 tierces rice, 150 tons fustic. She has still the capacity in her upper deck for 30,000 bushels, but owing to her heavy draught of water, (being 22 feet,) her owner has deemed it prudent to dispatch her with her main deck empty.

The mammoth clipper ship Great Republic will to-day noon be taken on the balance dock for examination.

The ship Walter Fish, 1,000 tons, 19 months old, is now on the box dock for repairs. A large portion of her bottom being worm-eaten, will be taken out and renewed with white oak plank. She will also have a thorough overhauling.

LONG ISLAND.

Second Congressional District.

Three candidates have been put in nomination in this District—GEORGE TAYLOR by the Buchanan Party, J. S. T. STRANAHAN by the Republicans, and R. T. WOOD by the Fillmore Americans.

Mr. TAYLOR was first nominated; and it is well understood that he will vote with DOUGLAS & Co. on all questions affecting Kansas or freedom in the territories. He is an out and out Pro-Slavery Democrat, and will give about the same aid and comfort to the Free-State men in Kansas as they have received from the present Administration.

The Republicans being satisfied with the course of Mr. STRANAHAN during the last session of Congress, nominated him by acclamation for reélection on Wednesday last. He was two years ago elected as the Anti-Nebraska candidate over Mr. TAYLOR, and as such received the votes of all opposed to the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, Whigs, Americans and Democrats, although he was at the time said to be a member of the American Party. He accordingly voted with the Republicans on all questions affecting that issue, and it was his strongest, and reason supposed that he would now receive the support of all who aided in his election two years ago.

But after these nominations were made, by which candidates fully representing the issues involved in the election were presented, a Convention calling itself American met to nominate a third candidate. In this Convention, which assembled on Friday evening last, Mr. STRANAHAN, on the first informal ballot, received several votes. It was thereupon resolved that the Convention go into a formal ballot, and that no person be considered a candidate who did not subscribe to the Philadelphia Platform of the American Party, and who would not support the nominees of that Convention. Under this resolution the votes given for Mr. STRANAHAN on the first formal ballot were ruled out of order, and on the second ballot, Mr. WOOD, receiving twenty-two votes, was declared the nominee of the Convention.

It will thus be seen that the leaders of the Fillmore Americans have deliberately resolved to strike down and defeat Mr. STRANAHAN because he unhesitatingly voted for freedom and against slavery in Kansas last Winter. This is his only offence.

It is currently reported, that the Americans in the District were in favor of supporting Mr. STRANAHAN, but that the leaders were prevailed upon by outside influence to throw his overthrow because an indorsement of his course by a nomination would seriously injure the party in the State. Thus common prevailed, and then by the formal action of the Convention, it is declared that opposition to Slavery extension disqualifies a man for nomination at the hands of the American Party in this State.

Note from Judge E. D. Culver.

BROOKLYN, Monday, Oct. 6, 1856.

To the Editor of the N. Y. Daily Times:

Your news reporter mentions me as one of the nominees for Congress, in the Fifth (Williamsburg) District.

I wish to say through your journal I am in the field for no office or nomination. I desire nothing except the honor of voting for FREMONT and Freedom. I voted for Geo. H. ANDREWS in 1854, and a truer friend of Freedom and Kansas cannot be found in that District. He is richly entitled to, and will receive, I have no doubt, the Republican nomination, with hardly a dissenting voice.

Had all the Anti-Nebraska men voted as I did in 1854, the Fifth District would have been saved the disgrace of being misrepresented by as arrant a Doughface as ever carried burdens for Southern masters. I refer to THOMAS E. WEBSTER.

Yours, E. D. CULVER.

At the Odeon.

At an early hour last night the Odeon—the large and handsome hall on Fifth-street, East Brooklyn—was densely packed with Republicans. A platform across the end of the Hall was devoted to the use of ladies, who were present in large numbers. The Mustang Minstrels gave some capital songs, and then Mr. MESSENGER, in the name of many ladies, presented to the Central Club, "in trust," a magnificent Banner,—with the understanding that, when the campaign is ended, the Club is to present it to the Ward that gives the largest proportionate vote for FREMONT and Freedom. He said the ladies wished him to remind the Club that its unusual courtesy in leaving its doors always open to ladies had especially challenged their admiration. Mr. FIELD (President) received the Banner in a neat and suggestive speech; after which the large audience listened attentively to addresses from Hon. HENRY J. RAYMOND and Rev. JOHN PIERPONT.

☞ Great times they have every Tuesday night at the Ranche corner of Fulton and Bedford avenues. Three weeks ago Mr. WM. H. BURLEIGH addressed them; two weeks ago J. M. VAN COTT; last week Jos. HOXIE; and to-night one HORACE GREELEY, that writes for a newspaper in New-York, is to talk to them. The Opposition are said to support ten men in this Ward for the sole and special purpose of tearing down the Republican posters of meetings. The Reps. give them plenty of posters to pull down, and so all parties grow fat at it.

For Assembly.

In the First Assembly District Mr. W. H. HICKOCK has received the American nomination.

☞ DAN. ULLMAN is stirring up the K. N.'s of Long Island, and they need it. We hear of two Lodges abandoned down East during the past week. ULLMAN lectures at Riverhead, Sag Harbor, and Greenport on the 7th, 8th and 9th. He must re-read to his hearers their oaths that they took, "laying their hands upon the Bible and the Cross."

☞ The Second Congressional District Convention is to be held at Jamaica, (not at Riverhead, as has been stated,) to-day.

Brooklyn City Court.

This Court opened yesterday morning, but adjourned for one week, as there was no business in readiness.

Fort Hamilton Relief Society's Report.

Following is the Report for two days past: Dr. ROTHS reports the death of CATHARINE COYLE, at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and of ARTHUR BYRNES, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon—both of black vomit.

THOMAS MCDONNELL, something better this morning; MRS. MCINTYRE ditto. All others improving.

NEW CASES.—Miss FLORINDA ROSE, taken on Saturday; symptoms light and favorable this morning.

FRANK BYRNES.

No new cases in the Military Hospital.

FRANCIS R. BERLIER, Secretary.

FORT HAMILTON, Oct. 6, 1856—9½ A. M.

Terrible Calamity—Eleven Persons Killed—Thirty to Forty Wounded.

From the Delaware (Ohio) Gazette, Oct. 3.

Just as our paper was ready for the press, yesterday evening, we were startled by intelligence that a terrible tragedy had occurred at the Fair Grounds, by which eleven persons were instantly killed, and some thirty or forty injured more or less seriously. The accident occurred from the bursting of the boiler of a steam engine on exhibition from the establishment of BRADLEY, DURNHAM, LAND & Co. In the haste and confusion that prevails it is impossible to get the particulars with any degree of accuracy, and indeed we are not in a condition to seek details; but of those killed six belonged to this town:

MRS. Walker, widow of the late Anthony Walker.

Thos. Williams, cabinet-maker.

William, son of S. Finch, Esq., aged about 8 years.

Louis, son of B. Powers, Esq., about the same age.

Henry Stimel, son of Daniel Stimel, aged about 15.

Who the others that were killed are, and where they came from, we cannot learn. Among the injured is our oldest son, Henry C. Thompson, a boy of 14 years, who is severely scalded in the face, and his leg probably fractured.

The Fair was passing off most pleasantly—an immense number of persons present—when this horrible occurrence put a stop to it, and cast a sudden gloom over all, and carried deep distress to the homes of many of our most esteemed citizens. We had left the grounds but a short time before the accident occurred and were thus spared being an eye witness to the heart-rending occurrence. God forbid that we shall ever be called upon to record another like it.

P. S.—Since the above was put in type, we have received the following list of the killed, as also of the severely wounded, so far as ascertained:

Dissolution Plans Expanded and Denounced.

From the Charleston and Southern, (Augusta, Ga.)

Some of the Buchanan newspapers and their contributors seem to be dreadfully agonized because, in the event of Fremont's election, or in case the Presidential election devolves upon the House of Representatives, the South has made no preparation for withdrawing from the Union. These agonies are all sham, but supposing them to be real, the sufferers may rest their tears at rest—the preparations are made—they have been in progress for eighteen months or two years, and are to be perfected immediately upon Fremont's election, without waiting to test his Administration, whether it be good or bad—sectional, such as might be expected of a sectional President; or Democratic—such as might be expected from a full-blooded Democrat, as FREMONT is. Perhaps he may keep his pledges to the North in like manner as Democratic pledges have heretofore been kept—if so the South has nothing to fear from his Administration. The preparations for secession were begun long before the nomination of Fremont, but in anticipation of the nomination of him or some one equally objectionable. If no such nomination were made the presumption is that the design was to be carried out any how, upon some pretence, found or made, rather than the schemers should lose their labor after having so far perfected what they had desired for years. But to the evidences of the plot so far as they have leaked out through the indiscretion of newspapers to the secret.

Some weeks since the Washington correspondent of the New-Orleans Delta said:

"It is already arranged, in the event of FREMONT's election, or a failure to elect by the people, to call the Legislatures of Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, to concert measures to withdraw from the Union before FREMONT can get possession of the army and navy, and the purse strings of Government. Gov. WISE is actively at work already in the matter."

The same paper avowed that it was designed to form a confederacy between the seceding States and Cuba, Nicaragua and Mexico.

Now in this there is revealed, among other things, the "great principle" which induced some of our Georgia politicians to battle so vigorously as they did for the election of Governor JOHNSON last Fall—all the while denunciating him and his party, the one as unworthy the least confidence—the other as consumed with the "dry rot." It was an enigma to most people how those patriotic gentlemen could reconcile the opinions they expressed of Gov. JOHNSON and his party, with their zealous support of him. But the riddle begins to be solved; there was a chance, unless they interfered, that Judge ANDREWS would be elected, and him they knew to be a conservative Union man, who was not cognizant of their plot and who would not countenance disunion, until some of the causes for adopting that last resort, set forth in the Georgia Platform, had occurred, or some other equally grave. Knowing this, they preferred an open and avowed disunionist, one who would willingly do their bidding—who had "spit upon the Georgia Platform—owed no allegiance to it, and had professed the utmost contempt for its authors—one for whose character, political and personal, they professed no respect, yet they battled with zeal worthy of a better cause, to elect him, because, forsooth, he was the representative of a great, mysterious principle—what that was they did not deign to inform us, but it has not come yet—the principle of disunion and civil war.

The same efforts were used by those in the secret to elect their candidate for the Legislature. Some of those whom they did not elect, some how or other got on their side when they went to Milledgeville. So this Legislature, which may have to decide the fate of the Union, has in it a large disunion majority, and the destiny of the country will be decided before the people have an opportunity at the ballot-box to declare their sentiments on a vital question, involving the interests of themselves and their children for all future time. Once or twice the people have given large majorities against parties only suspected of disunion sentiments, and the plotters knew it would not do to permit them to speak again upon the question presented so directly—a snap judgment was necessary, and a snap judgment is to be taken.

Some were astonished that these mighty orators should in the face of all their previously expressed opinions, display such bitter hostility to the American Party and so shamelessly distort and misrepresent its principles. That was a part of the plot. There was a prospect that the American would become a great conservative Union party. It would have been an obstacle in their path to rule or ruin. Adepts in the art of humbuggery, they stuffed the people with small talk about "dark lanterns, rituals," &c. So was the American Party defeated in Georgia.

But there are other revelations of their prospects. Even the line which was to be drawn between the North and South is fixed upon. The Richmond Enquirer, good Buchanan authority as all must allow, says:

"Let her (the South) if possible, detach Pennsylvania and Southern Ohio, Southern Indiana and Southern Illinois from the North, and make the highlands between Ohio and the Lakes the dividing line. Let the South treat with California and, if necessary, ally herself with Russia, with Cuba and Brazil."

"Pennsylvania"—that's BUCHANAN's share if he can get it. "Southern Illinois," &c., that's DOUGLAS' share on the same condition. An inquisitive man might inquire if the mission of DOUGLAS and other Democratic grandees to Europe within the past year or two, had anything to do with the plot. Do they look for a European alliance? Are we to be placed under the wolfish protection of the Russian despot, or of the Imperial murderer of France! Are they to be the future heads of the Democratic Party?

Now this plan of theirs is almost an exact counterpart with that of AARON BURR, for which he has been "damned to everlasting fame." It differs only in that he desired to separate the Western States from the Union, and to annex to them Mexico. BURR escaped the punishment of his treason through defects in the evidence, and by the machinations in his favor of the old Federal (BUCHANAN's) Party. The opinion of the world condemned him, however, (and it was just for once,) he passed his subsequent life in ignoring and died in obscurity. In these latter days, we ought not to say anything against his memory—treason, such as Burr's, would be first-rate patriotism now. We think the whole plan of the disunionists will soon be exposed—so much has been revealed because the revelation could not now injure BUCHANAN, their pretended candidate. The evidences are daily becoming stronger, that his fortunes are desperate. The late elections in which he has been beaten in the strongest Democratic States, prove that he is utterly incompetent to contend against Fremont, and that if the contest was confined to those two alone, Fremont's election would be certain, even if the whole South should vote for Buchanan. The latter has no strength at the North, while FILLMORE (whom his worst enemies allow to be honest, capable, and faithful to the Constitution) combines upon himself all the conservative strength there. What, then, ought the Union men of the South to do—when the country is danger on both hands—disunion on one, and Black Republicanism on the other. Ought they not to unite the South as much as possible upon their Union candidate who is the most formidable opponent of FREMONT? With the whole South united upon FILLMORE, he could be triumphantly elected by the people; why should we cling to the desperate wreck which bears BUCHANAN and his fortunes—especially when the crew are not only false to the best interests of the country, but disloyal to their captain—some openly avowing their preferences for FREMONT, provided disunion would be the consequence? GEORGIA PLATFORM.

A Strong Appeal to the Slave Interest on Behalf of Mr. Buchanan.

From the Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser, (Buchanan,) Sept. 18.

The position assumed by Mr. BUCHANAN in the Ostend Conference Manifesto, in regard to the acquisition of Cuba, might certainly to decide every Southern man to cast his vote sincerely for him. It removed all doubt, if any existed, of his real friendship to the South, and placed him immeasurably above all other Northern statesmen. We regret that this conclusive fact in his favor has not had its due prominence in the present contest. Its great importance cannot be too often dwelt upon by sincere and generous friends of southern rights. Fremont may, with consistency, and direct his votes against Abolitionism, slavery, in the District of Columbia, and in his speech upon the admission of Kansas, and in violation of all the principles of his party, and in the language of the Ostend Manifesto, he may be a Northern man, a Northern sectional candidate, and yet be a Northern man, a Northern sectional candidate, and yet be a Southern man, in whom the South can have no confidence.

We, as the supposed organ of the South, are accused, in Southern men, to the following most significant extract from that manifesto, remembering that the conference was held in the Fall of 1854, only two years since:

"After we shall have offered from a price for Cuba far beyond its present value, and this shall have been refused, whether the present condition of the island would justify such a measure. We should, however, be guilty of a dereliction of our duty, be unworthy of our gallant forefathers, and our posterity would have reason to upbraid us for our cowardice, should we permit Cuba to be Africanized, and become a second St. Domingo, with all its attendant horrors to the white race, and place the flames to extend to our neighboring shores, seriously to endanger or actually to consume the rich fruit of our Union."

Admitting, then, for the sake, that Mr. FREMONT is willing to grant to the South all of her rights within and under the Constitution (and his most insane advisers never claim that he will do more,) we have much in advance of him Mr. BUCHANAN has placed himself. Mr. Buchanan is ready and pledged not only to concede to us every constitutional right, but to go beyond that conservative position. By the foregoing language it will be seen that he is ready to go outside and beyond the Constitution, and, in defiance of all the world, to wrest Cuba from Spain by the strong arm of power.

And, reader, do you inquire why act in that extraordinary manner? His speech in 1856 upon the Panama mission, as well as his manifesto, furnishes the noble, patriotic reason—To prevent Cuba becoming "a vast magazine in the vicinity of the Southern States, whose explosion would be dangerous to their tranquillity and peace." What stronger evidence would any Southern man require? What stronger evidence could any man give of his friendship for us? In the face of Northern hostility to acquisition of Slave Territory, and in disregard, too, of the laws of nations, he is willing if that Island cannot be purchased, to take it by violence, in order to the "tranquillity and peace" of the South. In this matter he will not be hemmed in by the Constitution, or controlled for a moment by any abstract notions on the subject of Slavery, nor be awed by the combined force of the world.

The Troubles of the South at Home—Abolitionists to be Rooted Out.

From the Richmond Enquirer.

A few weeks ago we felt constrained to warn the people of the South against disguised Abolitionists living in our midst, propagating their incendiary doctrines, and all the while affecting to be very good Southern men. This well-meant warning was not received in a proper spirit in some quarters, and men who were liable to be suspected of faithlessness to the South and to the institution of Slavery, secured as our article and protested that there was no danger, and that our fears were merely assumed for political effect. Indeed, it has become very fashionable of late with a certain class in this and other slaveholding States to call the jealous regard of Democratic editors for the rights of the South, humbug and stuff, and so calculated to frighten old women and weaker men. It is easier to sneer than to frame a logical reply, and we are not surprised, therefore, when silly Free-Soilers resort to this method of answering our arguments. But we insist, nevertheless, that the people of the South have need to be on their guard against Abolition emissaries, many of whom are in our midst, and some of whom even slaves merely as a blind to shields them from suspicion.

As evidencing the necessity of the caution we have urged, we cite a few examples of announcements contained in some of our exchanges which came to hand yesterday morning.

A day or two ago we gave an account of the expulsion from Alabama and Mississippi of several Northern incendiaries. Of two more of these persons, the Sumter (Ala.) Democrat says:

"We have just learned from a private source that two men by the name of PIERCE, Yankee school teachers in Clarke County, Miss., have been detected in attempting to incite the negroes in that section, to insurrection, in the following bold and fearless manner. One of these gentlemen had identified himself with the community in which he lived, by purchasing a saw-mill, under which he had a room, so constructed as to enable him to hold his councils unperceived. It was discovered in a neighboring swamp that they had also fitted up a rendezvous, with seats, &c., sufficient to accommodate three hundred persons, where, according to the testimony of the negroes, they (the negroes) had assemblies from ten miles square."

The Elba (Ala.) Democrat states that five or more of these pernicious scoundrels were recently expelled from that place for crimes similar to those above described.

Two pedlers were recently expelled from Cheraw, S. C., on the charge of tampering with negroes.

A few days ago, the citizens of Livingston, Sumner County, Ga., held a meeting to consider the case of a man named SAMUEL SHERWOOD, charged with being an Abolition incendiary. He was ordered to leave the State within three days. A suspected Abolitionist has also been arrested at Columbus, Miss., and placed in jail for trial.

Now, when in connection with these extracts, it is remembered that within two weeks of the date of our former article, a precious scoundrel was driven from Lexington in this State, who will pretend to say that there was no need of our warning?

With these evidences of practical interference with Slavery, we are told by semi-Abolitionists in this State that there is no danger that Slavery in the States will be molested, and our intimations that this is possible are rated as humbug and charlatanry. The fact is we cannot hope for better things while men are tolerated in a Southern community, who occupy the same position of hostility to the South which is maintained by every Black Republican at the North. Yet such there are stalking abroad in the community, who claim exemption from the punishment inflicted on incendiaries, because they happen to reside in Virginia. Such men are more to be hated and feared, and deserve severer punishment than the vilest Abolitionist of the North. They are hypocritical pretenders, wolves in sheep's clothing, venemous vipers, who should be crushed without pity.

A Southern Opinion of Pennsylvania.

From the South Carolina Times.

We regard Pennsylvanians as occupying precisely the same position as those of Massachusetts—they are not a whit better, and we would regard it as a blessing, if the Union is ever dissolved, to get rid of such an association. They are homogeneous with the people of the South. Their standard of morality, christianity, patriotism and respect for law and order and right, is subject to the influence of the "almighty dollar." But as regards Maryland, what shall we say of her? Can any confidence or reliance be placed in the people of a State who are half abolitionized, and those journalists preach submission to every species of wrong and indignity?

We have little confidence in Maryland and Pennsylvania—they are ready to go on either side which will afford them the strongest assurances of trade and profit.

As regards finding a corporal's guard to go to Washington to protect the rights of the South in public offices, Mr. BROOKS, should he find it necessary to call for men, can marshal a battalion in Richland, to say nothing of his own Congressional District and the State at large.

More of the Charleston Duel.

From the Charleston Mercury, Oct. 2.

The undersigned deem it their duty to lay before the community, through the press of the city, with a view to a just understanding of the late hostile difficulty between Mr. EDWARD MAGRATH and Mr. WILLIAM R. TABER, Jr., the following correspondence and statement:

The annexed communication was handed to Mr. TABER on Saturday forenoon, the 27th inst., Mr. JAMES CONNER, who bore it, not having met him the day previous:

No. 36 BROAD-STREET, Sept. 26, 1856.

To John Heart, Esq., and W. R. Taber, Jr., Esq., Editors of the Charleston Mercury:

GENTLEMEN: You have, after repeated threatenings and with deliberation, published and circulated insulting and libellous attacks upon my brother, Judge MAGRATH. To effect this, you have put aside the habitual propriety of a Charleston newspaper; and, disregarding the taste and sentiment of the community, have emulated the corruption and licentiousness of a venal press elsewhere.

You have done this without provocation, or the excuse of excitement, and in the face of relations with Judge MAGRATH, proving upon both of you personal estimates of him in private exactly the reverse of those you have indorsed and published. Herein is the proof of your delinquency, either in your private intercourse or in your public conduct. You have, it is true, attempted to interpose the protection and veil of an anonymous correspondent; this could not serve you in any event. In your seeming anxiety to secure it, you have, by an apologetic paragraph, in your own names as editors, indorsed the libel. I am thus relieved of all questions as to whom I should address myself. You know, in attaching one exercising judicial functions, that, as to him, you would be exempt from the personal accountability I claim at your hands. You will not doubt my right to do so. How far your supposed security may have sharpened the malice and stimulated the audacity of the attack, I will not now surmise, because the intent of this communication is to afford you the opportunity of proving whether you did or did not calculate upon such immunity, and to demand the satisfaction recognized in such cases.

I invite you severally to a meeting, and refer you for the necessary arrangements, to my friend, JAMES CONNER, Esq., who will hand you this.

I am, your obedient servant,

E. MAGRATH.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 27, 1856.

SIR: I have received by the hands of Mr. CONNER, your note of the 26th inst. I repeat your assertion that I have published "insulting and libellous attacks upon my brother, Judge MAGRATH," and attempt to prove it by the publication of the proceedings of a public meeting, in which, on the contrary, simultaneously with the publication of those articles, we published its actions for reply.

Before I take notice of the simple personal aspect of your note to myself, I have a word to say, facetiously, in reference to the conduct of the public press, the resolution of Judge MAGRATH, and the party who gave the resolution to him. Your charge of my having published libellous attacks upon Judge MAGRATH, I pronounce to be a groundless slander, for which, if persisted in, I cannot be satisfied.

New-York Daily Times, Sunday, October 5, 1856.

[illegible] meeting held in Wall-street last Thursday afternoon, was much more like the black little pamphlet into the oblivion to which it is speedily consigned.

The Journal of Commerce had the honor of drumming up the recruits for that display; and those who had the honor of enlisting, declared themselves to be, like the REPUBLICANS, "attached to the Constitution and the Union, and opposed to the organization of parties on a sectional basis." Yet, in spite of this self-righteous manifesto, the meeting was thoroughly a SECTIONAL affair. Its officers, its orators, its claqueurs, its glorifiers, were all SECTIONALISTS—representing a very small and a very unimportant minority of the merchants of New-York City. From the live Ex-Governor on the platform, who read the lecture, and swore in the periods to enliven their dulness,—down to the brawling braggarts who loafed in the outskirts of the audience, and vied with the Virginian in oaths and brandy-water,—all were Southern; Southern by birth, or by marriage, or by business. The whole affair was evidently a running bid for Southern sympathy and trade!

The gentleman who had the honor to preside at the meeting, and who introduced the elephant, runs a line of packets between New-York City and Texas. The gentleman who had the honor to read the resolutions, is a cotton broker. And the forty-six gentlemen who had the honor to be published as Vice-Presidents and Secretaries, comprise tobacco, rice, and cotton dealers; shipowners, whose ships are employed in carrying Southern produce to a market; cashiers and bankers, who lend and borrow money on Southern securities; brokers and lame ducks, who furnish the South with stocks and peddle Southern Railroad bonds and State scrips in Wall-street; and traders whose goods and principles are nailed up in the same cases, and invoiced to Southern customers on the same sheet. This was the woof and warp of the whole thing. It was, in fact, a SECTIONAL meeting of the most extreme sort, and reflected the sentiments of the merchants of New-York, about as much as if it had been held in Richmond, Va.

And who was the orator? An avowed SECTIONALIST of the rabid Virginia school, which values the Union only as it enhances the value of "good, fat, healthy, buck niggers." The man who at Lynchburg indorsed KEITT, the particeps criminis of Bully BROOKS in his cowardly assassination of Senator SUMNER; the political companion of WISE and BELDEN, and FETON and HERBERT, and that crazy crew of Southern disunionists, who have already nullified the Constitution, by destroying freedom of speech and freedom of the press, and have substituted mob violence and murder for law! This is the man who was set up in Wall-street last Thursday by a clique, backed by BYRDERS and his rowdy gang, and claiming to represent the sentiments of the New-York merchants!

The merchants of New-York City have not fallen so low as that yet. Their intelligence and patriotism have never been more grossly insulted than by these Floyd-worshipers, who have endeavored to palm themselves off upon the country as the exponents of our commercial community.

Such being the character of Gov. FLOYD's Wall-street assembly, we are prepared to find, among the doughfaced resolutions of that occasion, the following piece of buncombe:

Resolved, * * * that any set of men who systematically draw invidious comparisons between the different members of the confederacy and foment dissensions between the States, are in reality, if not in design, traitors to the Government under which we live.

What sensitive creatures, and what profound judges of Constitutional law, these Wall-street gentlemen must be! The Constitution of the United States defines treason, and declares it "to consist only in levying war against them, or adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort." But Wall-street declares that "drawing invidious comparisons" between the States, in reality constitutes treason! That is a comprehensive definition, certainly, and seems patterned after the provisions of the Kansas Code. We have no doubt that the leaders in this Wall-street meeting would be very glad to apply the Kansas law here, as well as there, and to forbid any newspaper editor, or other lawless and traitorous individual, from even "drawing invidious comparisons" between New-York and Virginia, Ohio and Kentucky, or Massachusetts and South Carolina. What a glorious land of liberty this would be if the growers and the brokers of cotton and tobacco could have everything their own way!

Frederick Hecker, the Patriot.

FREDERICK HECKER, who arrived in this City on Saturday last, and who is to address his German fellow-citizens to-night, is one of the most eminent men modern Germany has produced. Long before the Revolution of 1848, he was known as a prominent advocate of Mannheim, and as the very front of the liberal party in the Baden Landtag, (or diet,) which met at Carlsruhe. When the news of the overthrow of LOUIS PHILIPPE, and of the establishment of the French Republic reached Germany, he was one of the first who incited the oppressed people to Revolution, and by his wonderful eloquence moved the masses to action. Charged with high treason, he was forced to flee from Baden, but when the elections were ordered for delegates to the German Parliament at Frankfort-on-the-Maine, he was chosen by no less than five districts, but was denied admission into that mongrel body on account of his Ultra-Republicanism. Subsequently he was actively engaged in the Baden Revolution, and at last, when all hopes of liberty had fled, he escaped to this country.

Arrived here, he purchased a farm in Illinois and secluded himself entirely from the world. The failure of all his hopes for oppressed Germany affected him deeply, and quietly engaged in cultivating his farm and studying the institutions of his adopted country, he passed the next seven or eight years. He little thought that here, too, he would have to assist in the struggle for liberty.

But within the last year he became aware of the necessity of action. The American citizens of German birth saw the change which had been brought about in the Democratic Party, with which they had heretofore acted, and they began to leave the party of Slavery for the party of Liberty. It was then that HECKER came forth from his solitude and exerted his voice and his talents for Freedom. Since then he has been constantly engaged in speaking throughout the Northern States, and he has even visited Canada, in order to see those who formerly knew him. Aware of the necessity of his presence, he says he has not been leaving his house in order, his wife and two children confined to their beds by illness, and all his business affairs in disorder. But, from his past action in Germany, we might well infer that no sacrifice was too great for him to make in the cause of Freedom.

Diplomatic Movements.

We believe we may state with some certainty that the rumor which pointed to Honorable CHARLES VILLIERS as the probable successor of Mr. CRAMPTON in the British Embassy to this country, was premature, and that there is no intention, on the part of the British Government, to disturb, for the present, the happy interregnum which has existed for the past few months. There is no department of foreign Government in which the principle of "quieta non movere" holds such complete dominion as in that of foreign affairs, and Lord CLARENDON is far too expedient a statesman to break the golden calm which has succeeded our late international storm. Had an Ambassador been appointed to this country we hardly know, in the catalogue of eligibilities, any one so peculiarly fitted to discharge the duties, with advantage to this country and honor to his own. But better even than his appointment is none at all.

Since the departure of Mr. CRAMPTON the official business at Washington, embracing many points of complicated and delicately interwoven interests, has been conducted with singular good judgment and ability, and gone far to add weight to the growing conviction that half the mischief in the world is the creation of a number of idle gentlemen who stroll about Park-row, the Prater, Pennsylvania-avenue and the Boulevards, perpetrating mischief for want of something else to do.

To the many who retain an abiding sense of the late Ambassador's many personal gentle qualities, it may be agreeable to learn that he is destined to find, in the lucrative repose of the Embassy to Hanover, a salve for his diplomatic sorrows here. In that quiet little region, if nature does not supply so large a field for the statesman, she provides the compensation of a small one for the diplomatic. If there are no glorious rivers for our Ex-Minister to linger over his line in piscatorial ecstasy, there are no Central American questions, no Clayton Conversation to disturb his digestion or make haggard his dreams. Hanover is a very little place of peace.

In the next installation, too, we understand that the dignity of Knighthood of the Bath will be conferred on Mr. CRAMPTON, and that he will find his place as Sir JOHN CRAMPTON, alongside of Sir RICHARD AHERN, and those many other gentlemen who have been sent home from the Crimea for incapacity, and had their multitudes of shortcomings covered with the charity of a K. C. B. In pointing to this illustrious batch of knights for the future, England may exclaim as did BRIAN BEHMEN's valet, looking at his master's crumpled ties, "These are our failures."

A Nut for Mr. Bonner to Crack.

BEEKMAN-STREET, NEW-YORK, Friday, Oct. 3, 1856.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

SIR: During the last few weeks I have heard the question asked, by some of the subscribers of the TIMES, whether "it was right for the Proprietors of that paper to devote whole pages of its issue to the advertisement of some monopolizing Journal?" Now it strikes me as not being "right," or proper, to partially fill your paper with such nonsensical stuff. This morning, on opening the TIMES, the first thing that met our eyes was a paper filled with "Orion," &c., &c., and which was acceptable, I doubt not, to but very few of your readers.

When we subscribed for the TIMES we did so because we thought it a good paper, and on the whole quite conservative, and that we should get reading matter and not advertisements of the sort to which we have alluded.

Hoping in future to see fewer of them,

I am, respectfully yours, A SUBSCRIBER.

That's the second letter of this sort we have received. Mr. BONNER will please make a note of it. We are in imminent danger of losing two of our esteemed subscribers on his account. They think the TIMES ought not to publish "advertisements of that sort." They are evidently gentlemen of refined tastes and we cannot afford to lose them. If our circulation is to fall off at that rate, we shall be forced into bankruptcy.

We are still inclined to think, that in spite of his groans, we must "shut down the gates on Mr. BONNER."

NEWS FROM EUROPE.—The Canadian steamer Anglo Saxon arrived at Quebec yesterday, with four days' later news from Europe. The most important political intelligence received is in relation to the trouble between the Western Powers and Italy, which has now assumed such a shape that an open rupture is generally anticipated. According to the Paris Debats, a reliable authority, if King FERDINAND, or BOMBA, as he is more generally styled, does not immediately decide upon granting the concessions demanded, four line of battle ships, two frigates, and two corvettes, already detained for the purpose, will proceed to Naples to remove the English and French Ambassadors. Such a force certainly appears to be more than sufficient for the services required, even if instructions should extend to the capture of his Bombastic Majesty's person. Advices from Copenhagen state that negotiations on the Sound Dues question were progressing favorably, and that a solution would be arrived at in a few days. It appears that the difficulties between Russia and the Western Powers in regard to Serpent's Isle are not yet settled. A dispatch from Constantinople states that the English and French fleets will, in consequence, remain in the East. The Austrian Government has caused the arrest of several men discharged at Malta from the British legion. England has protested against the act and has demanded the immediate release of the men. These circumstances have had a depressing effect on the funds. A rumor reaches us that O'DONNELL, the Spanish minister, had tendered his resignation, but that the Queen refused to accept it.

A HIGH COMPLIMENT FOR MR CHOATE.—Professor FELTON said at a Republican meeting in Cambridge, on Wednesday night, that if he were rich enough, he would pay Mr. CHOATE a hundred thousand dollars to write a letter for Pennsylvania similar to the one he wrote for Maine.

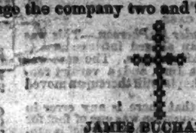
[illegible]

Gov. HICKMAN HOUSE,
NEW-YORK, Sunday, Sept. 28, 1856.

I am truly sorry to see Southern Democrats abusing and crucifying Mr. FILLMORE, as some of our Hard Fingers, south of Mason and Dixon's line, occupie not to do. Mr. FILLMORE is the party's best hope, and God Bless him! I believe if he is not elected, the [illegible] will tend to defeat Democ[illegible] Were Mr. F. to withdraw, the Pathfinder would certainly carry both New-York and Pennsylvania, and of course, "as sure as the old Buck," [illegible] to say the least, it is bad policy, (as well as injustice and ingratitude to a patriot statesman,) to level the artillery and fire of democracy against Mr. FILLMORE in so offensive a way. [illegible] Pierce, or Fremont, [illegible] FILLMORE [illegible] in order to shove Buchanan out of the game.

Aha! Are you there, old Truspenny? Ex-Gov. FLOYD, who revealed to the Wall-street crowd his discovery that there were "bonds between BUCHANAN and FILLMORE," talks more explicitly, it seems, in private conversation. He does not hesitate to declare that "they WILL HAVE to unite," in order to beat FREMONT. His mission to the North has brought him to that conclusion. He is satisfied that the only chance of defeating the Pathfinder lies in a coalition of the old-line, Pro-Slavery, Pro-Catholic, Pro-Irish Democracy, with the Anti-Catholic, Anti-Irish, Anti-German Know-Nothings! To this complexion hath it come at last!

What splendid tableaux a procession of these Coalition forces would display! Let us arrange the company two and two:



JAMES BUCHANAN.
MILLARD FILLMORE.

[Banner.]
NO POPERY.

HENRY A. WISE and EBENEZER BROOKS.
DANIEL ULLMAN and Ex-Gov. FLOYD.
Archbishop HUGHES and "KERWAN."

[Bonds of Union.]
CHAINS AND FETTERS.

And so forth! We shall attend the first grand rally of this new Union party. It will be a splendid spectacle. If the lion ever is found lying down with the lamb when this coalition takes place, he never will be.

A NEW PROPOSITION FOR THE SOUTH.—A writer in the Charleston Mercury says:

"Unless the signs of the times are very deceitful, the election of the Black Republican candidate for the Presidency is no longer a question of doubt."

This seems to be a very general impression at the South, and the Mercury, in anticipating the event, threatens us with a Chinese wall. "In case a cordon of military posts along the frontier States should be found insufficient," says the Mercury, "to prevent the thieving North from harassing our border, kidnapping our property, and murdering our people, one half of the sum we now pay annually for the blessing of this glorious Union would build up a Chinese wall from one point to the other."

This is the first really tangible idea that we have seen advanced by any of the Southern disunionists for separating the two sections of the Union. The gallant BROOKS' plan of marching to Washington and robbing the public treasury was a trifling proposition, for though it might be congenial to the nature of such a leader to engage in such petty predatory warfare, yet we must confess it is not half so terrifying as the bold proposition of the Mercury to build a Chinese wall between the Slave and the Free States. There ought to be another meeting in Wall-street at once, and the Chevalier BROOKS ought to be invited by Governor FLOYD's friends to address our merchants on the danger of such a design being carried into immediate execution. Who will doubt, after this, that the disunionists, secessionists, and coöperationists of the South are thoroughly in earnest?

ANOTHER VICARIOUS DUEL.—By the Telegraphic report it will be seen that young BOTTS and PRYOR, editor of the Richmond Enquirer, have gone to Washington to fight a duel. This is another of those family feuds which are becoming as common at the South as they used to be among the clans of the Scottish Highlands. Young BOTTS has challenged PRYOR, not on his own personal account, but to sustain the honor of his father, just as the younger MAGRATH fought with the editor of the Mercury to defend the honor of his brother. It is a most unfavorable sign for the South, that not a solitary Southern journal, so far as we have seen, has had a word of disapprobation of these barbarous and irrational methods of settling a quarrel. The Southern press has been eloquent in its laudations over the untimely and unhappy death of TARRE, but not one of them utter a word in condemnation of the murderous and degrading system to which he fell a sacrifice. This Botts and Pryor duel is the more inexcusable, from the ability which the elder BOTTS has displayed in fighting his assailants with their own wordy weapons. If young BOTTS should happen to kill his antagonist, it would only be the means of consecrating his memory, while the elder BOTTS would be deprived of the opportunity of defending himself from the attacks of his adversary. When DANIEL O'CONNELL called DISRAELI a descendant of the Impenitent Thief, Dizzy sent a challenge to O'CONNELL's son, who very properly declined the invitation, because it was not his quarrel. It is quite bad enough for a man to fight a duel on his own account, without being compelled to fight on account of his relatives.

MORE FEASTING!—It will be seen, by a special dispatch from our Correspondent, that the chivalry of South Carolina gave PRESTON S. BROOKS a magnificent entertainment on the 3d inst., at Edgefield, S. C. Two goblets and sundry canes were presented to him, and the most eloquent "Union and Constitution speeches," as the Journal of Commerce regards them, were made by the impassioned patriots present. Glory is a great thing at the South. It is curious to see how great reputations for statesmanship are won in that favored section of our common country.

A COMPLIMENT FOR NOBODY.—Senator HUNTER, of Virginia, said, in his speech at Poughkeepsie last week, "nobody wants to force Slavery into Kansas." Did Mr. HUNTER mean, by this remark, to insinuate that his friend [illegible] Slavery into Kansas, his remark is by no means complimentary to them.

WHAT A FOOL!—Governor SEWARD, in his Detroit speech the other day, did not praise Col. FREMONT enough to satisfy the Commercial Advertiser. The editorial columns of that commercial sheet are devoted to complaints of the Governor's coolness on this subject. The Commercial seems also to be in considerable distress of mind because Gov. SEWARD himself was not nominated for the Presidency. If we fall at liberty to infer from this that he would have been supported by the Commercial, we should have discovered another reason for rejoicing that he was not selected. The successful candidate this time is not to be elected by such support.

TOWN ELECTIONS IN CONNECTICUT.—The elections for town officers took place yesterday in about half the State of Connecticut, but the returns thus far received by telegraph are very incomplete. Our latest dispatch states that returns have been received from forty-nine towns, in twenty-eight of which the Republicans have majorities—the remaining twenty-one having gone Democratic. There was a fusion of the Democrats and the Fillmore men.

We do not like personalities, but what does the New-YORK DAILY TIMES, of all journals, mean by calling Mr. WEED, of Albany, "an old rat, who seems to be in forty or fifty places, and attending to forty or fifty things at once!"—Commercial Advertiser.

☞ Good! we are glad to see the Commercial rushing to the defence of Mr. WEED. We hope it will continue the good work. Don't let his name be taken in vain by any body. "Be vigilant!"

Matters in Pennsylvania—The Ballot Box to be Defrauded.

The following letter comes to us from a source of the highest authority—and fully entitled to confidence:

PHILADELPHIA, Sunday, Oct. 5, 1856.

The Buchananists, satisfied that the People are against them, have gone deliberately at work to CHEAT THROUGH the election.

Over 15,000 wild men have been placed upon the Assessors' lists as voters! This fact was disclosed yesterday in what is called "Extra Assessments."

This has given confidence to the enemy. They hope, by this gigantic swindle, to overcome the Free Vote of the country.

In the Democratic Counties, aware of the pervading indignation against the Administration and Border Ruffians, the Buchanan men go for "BUCHANAN, BRECKINRIDGE and FREE KANSAS!" This is a counterpart of their fraud in 1845, when they went for "POLK, DALLAS and the TARIFF OF '842!"

The Buchanan speeches claim to be for "Free Kansas." They dare not either defend the Administration or avow their principles. They dodge the Platform on which their candidate placed himself.

The Republicans are holding large and enthusiastic meetings everywhere. In Bucks County, yesterday, there was a tremendous gathering, at which Senator FOOTE, of Vermont, and Mr. NORTH, of Wisconsin, did good service.

Gov. REEDER is untiring and bold, speaking the whole truth day and night.

The invitation to Speaker BANKS was signed by the strongest men in the city, two-thirds of whom, four weeks ago, were against us.

Our friends are confident that the October Election will show the State largely against BUCHANAN.

Yours, &c.

Political Debate—To the Electors of New-York.

HON. LUCIEN B. CHASE TO MR. RAYMOND.

NEW-YORK, Monday, Sept. 29, 1856.

Hon. HENRY J. RAYMOND—Dear Sir: I have, from the commencement of this canvass, been convinced, that the Southern system of "stumping," ought to be adopted in New-York. I was, therefore, very much gratified, when I saw your letter in the TIMES, addressed to Hon. EZRA'S BROOKS, because it proved that at least one distinguished gentleman was in favor of the system. Doubting whether an arrangement would be made between yourself and Mr. BROOKS, I desired our mutual friend, Mr. EATON, on the same day that your letter appeared, to say to you that I would accept the position of your opponent in debate. I made this offer in no vain spirit of boasting, but from a desire to see the issues between the Democratic and Republican parties fairly presented to the people, and also with the hope that the example might induce others to adopt the system.

I have before me a copy of your note to Mr. EATON, dated 29th inst., in which you say, that you had "special reasons for desiring a debate with Mr. BROOKS, which would not have equal weight in regard to a discussion with others. But, if the gentleman to whom you refer should see fit to address me a proposition for such a meeting, I shall be happy to take it into respectful consideration."

It is under a conviction of your ability to do justice to your cause that I offer to make an arrangement with you to address the people of the State of New-York, at such times and places, and upon such terms as we may agree upon. I hope you will not consider this communication as an arrogant challenge, for it is not so intended—but simply a proposition to address our fellow-citizens, fairly and honorably, together, and I trust the suggestion may be in accordance with your inclinations.

Do me the favor of replying at your earliest convenience. Your obedient servant,

LUCIEN B. CHASE.

MR. RAYMOND'S REPLY.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Sept. 30, 1856.

Hon. L. B. CHASE—Dear Sir: Your note of yesterday has been received. I fully appreciate your motives for asking me to meet you in political discussion, and hold myself ready to accept the invitation.

Frankness, however, compels me to say that the issues between BUCHANAN and FREMONT are so fairly and so clearly drawn that every citizen can readily form his own judgment upon them, and that a debate of this kind seems therefore comparatively needless. My special reason for desiring a discussion with Mr. BROOKS was, because I thought it might aid in defining the position of Mr. FILLMORE, which is much more widely misrepresented, and much less generally understood than that of either of the other candidates.

I shall feel it to be my duty to devote as large a share as possible of the personal effort I can make in the canvass to explaining and exposing Mr. FILLMORE's relation to the main issue, and shall not be able, therefore, to join you in anything like a general canvass of the State. But I shall be glad, if you desire it, to arrange for a limited number of meetings—say four or five—at such times and places as may be mutually convenient.

I am, very truly,
Your obedient servant,
HENRY J. RAYMOND.

In accordance with the proposals contained in the above correspondence, the undersigned will, for the purpose named, meet the electors of the following places at the times designated—the meetings to take place in the evening, and at such convenient halls as may be provided in each:

BROOKLYN	Saturday—Oct. 11th.
NEW-YORK	Saturday—Oct. 18th.
	Monday—Oct. 20th.
ELMIRA	Thursday—Oct. 23d.
ROCHESTER	Saturday—Oct. 25th.
UTICA	Monday—Oct. 27th.
ALBANY	Tuesday—Oct. 28th.

LUCIEN B. CHASE,
HENRY J. RAYMOND.

STILL ONWARD!
SUCCESS UNPARALLELED!!
DRED;
A TALE OF THE GREAT DISMAL SWAMP.
BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE.
Two vols. 12mo. $1 75.

"Certain politicians, interested in the support of the "peculiar institution," have endeavored to persuade the public that Mrs. Stowe's last work is artistically a failure, and that it has produced no profound impression on either side of the Atlantic.

But the publishers are happy to state, that of the many hundreds of American notices which they have received, the vast majority have been decidedly favorable, most of them enthusiastic. And the sale thus far has exceeded that of any work of fiction ever published, the set, of two volumes each, being now in press.

In England the success has been even more wonderful. The press there, with but one or two exceptions, acknowledge the genius and power of the author, and in terms of which any living writer might be proud. And during the twelve days succeeding its publication no fewer than were sold.

The universal voice of literary men now places Mrs. Stowe among the FOREMOST AUTHORS OF THE AGE, and neither partisanship nor an austere religious bigotry can ever deprive her of the laurels she has so nobly earned.
PHILLIPS, SAMPSON & CO., Publishers, Boston.

Any newspaper inserting this advertisement conspicuously three times, and sending a copy to the publishers, will receive a copy of the work free of postage.

A CIRCULAR TO ADVERTISERS.—THE increase in the circulation of the WEEKLY DAY BOOK has recently been so rapid, that the fact is not generally known to advertisers. Believing that business men generally prefer advertising in those mediums where they can address the greatest number of readers, at a less or equal price charged for smaller circulations, the publisher of the DAY BOOK would call your attention to a few facts. On the first of January last, the circulation of the WEEKLY DAY BOOK did not reach 10,000; but since that time, we have increased over 20,000 subscribers, making our subscription list now 30,000. This is the actual circulation each week, and which is constantly increasing at the rate of 400 to 800 per week. These are "no name" "sample subscribers" either; for we publish no paper of this kind.

The increase has been unprecedented in the history of American journalism, and the publisher would remind business men that the DAY BOOK now affords them a medium of advertising which has never been offered them before. Our circulation is nearly equally distributed between the Northern and Southern States. Without going through our books we would make a rough guess that it did not differ 2,000 either way. We have, therefore, 15,000 at least, in the Southern States, where other papers, for reasons we need not refer to, have not been acceptable. The Herald, from a statement published in its own columns not long since, said it circulated only about 2,000 in the South; and the Tribune, as we learn from a table of its circulation which appeared last Winter, is only about the same. We have a circulation, therefore, not confined to any locality, but send papers to every State and Territory in the country. The bold and independent position the DAY BOOK has assumed is attracting to it great attention, and each copy is probably read by a greater number of persons than any other paper published. Another point is worthy of notice—while our circulation is less than the Weekly Tribune, yet we are confident that we send to more different post-offices than that paper. We thus address more persons, of different tastes, habits, customs and opinions, than that paper, which, to advertisers, is a matter of the utmost importance. A weekly paper is acknowledged to be a better medium for advertising than a daily paper, which is read generally in cities, simply for the news, and then thrown aside. Our price for advertising, (12½ cents per line,) is, however, only the rate generally charged by daily journals. The WEEKLY DAY BOOK, therefore, presents the cheapest medium of advertising; for the Tribune, which we believe has less than four times our circulation, charges eight times our rates. We therefore offer, not only the best, but the cheapest medium of advertising in our country.

We present these facts to you, believing that your own interest, as well as ours, will be advanced by patronizing the WEEKLY DAY BOOK. To render assurance doubly sure, and to relieve ourselves from all suspicion of having stated our circulation to be what it is not, we ask your attention to the certificate given below.
N. E. FELMSON,
Publisher New-York Day Book, No. 17 Ann-st. N. Y.

We have furnished the paper for the DAY BOOK during the month of August, and certify that the quantity delivered to the press-room for that paper was equal to thirty reams each day, or, allowing for losses, some twenty-five reams daily.

This is to certify, that the number of copies we print and deliver to the proprietor of the WEEKLY DAY BOOK, particularly every week, of late, amounts to thirty thousand and upwards.

GAS AND FIXTURES.

THE AUBIN PORTABLE GAS WORKS are now admitted to be the best known, whether for private houses or for villages, hamlets, or their economy of construction and operation, their freedom from smell, and their unequaled economy; they do not require mechanical skill or attention, they work night and day if required—never clog the pipes, and cannot explode. They generate gas from any material containing H. These great advantages, in connection with the fact that such a working gas has never experienced a rival, [illegible]

More About that Bigamy Case.

Mr. J. W. Frazier and his wife Mary were brought before Justice Davidson yesterday, charged with subornation of perjury by Alonzo W. Adams. The accused were witnesses for the prosecution in the recent examination of Mr. Adams for bigamy, when it is alleged they held out inducements to a man named Smith, to appear and give false and material evidence against the defendant. The matter will be further investigated.

MARK THE FACTS.

J. Gurney's Establishment, No. 349 Broadway, is the oldest and most extensive establishment in the United States.

Gurney was the first to introduce the Art of Photography in this City.

Gurney has recently made important alterations and improvements in his establishment.

Gurney has now greater facilities for producing finer work in every branch than has heretofore been done in this country.

Gurney has still in his employ the best of his old artists.

Gurney has recently added to the above a talented corps of American, French, and German artists.

Gurney's colored Photographs of all sizes need only to be seen to be appreciated; they speak for themselves.

Gurney's plain, untouched Photographs were never equaled; so say Artists and the best judges.

Gurney's Daguerreotypes are universally pronounced superior productions.

Gurney has received more testimonials for his skill than any other artist in the profession.

Gurney received the only medal for Photographic productions, at the late Paris exhibition—consequently Gurney stands at the head of the world in the Photographic Art.

Gurney has not removed any branch of his business to any part of the City.

Gurney has no connection with any other establishment in any other part of the City.

Gurney attends personally to his patrons and friends and has for the last sixteen years.

Gurney will be most happy to continue that attention, and will still endeavor to please all who may give him a visit at his Photographic Palace of Art, No. 349 Broadway, corner Leonard-street, New-York.

Facts that are Known.—Photographs, Daguerreotypes, Ambrotypes, &c.—The undersigned having removed the Photographic department and his Parisian artists from his old place of business, No. 349 Broadway, to his new and magnificent establishment, No. 585 Broadway, would call the attention of the public to the fact that this Galleries, and the pictures made in them, are superior to anything before exhibited. Those desiring Photographs, Daguerreotypes, or Ambrotypes, executed by artists of refined taste, would do well to call and judge for themselves. A Perfumed Breath.—What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath when by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as dentifrice would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster! Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Pour a single drop of the "Balm" on your tooth-brush and wash the teeth night and morning. A fifty-cent bottle will last a year. For sale by all druggists. None genuine unless signed by Ferridge & Co., proprietors.

MONDAY, Oct. 6—P. M.

The Official Averages of the Banks in the City of New-York, for the week ending Saturday last, Oct. 4, which are advertised in detail on another page of this paper, present in the aggregate the following changes, as compared with the previous statement of Sept. 27:

Decrease in Loans and Discounts	$1,060,486
Increase in Specie	141,964
Increase in Circulation	165,434
Decrease in Undrawn Deposits	1,008,626

Including the Sub-Treasury Statement of Saturday, and the operations through the Clearing House, the following is the general

COMPARATIVE RECAPITULATION.

	Oct. 4, '56.	Oct. 4, '55.	Sept. 27, '56.
Loans	$95,515,021	$107,951,707	$96,992,205
Specie	11,110,487	11,015,184	10,872,229
Circulation	7,852,217	5,830,698	8,055,784
Gross Deposits	77,559,626	88,730,808	68,459,794
Exchanged	21,055,186	26,678,258	24,709,422
Undrawn	56,427,490	62,052,545	63,661,171
Sub-Treasury	12,188,012	12,328,312	12,522,060

The clearances or interchanges between the Banks through the Clearing House last week were one hundred and sixty millions, the largest known to the records of the office since its establishment in October, 1853. The daily average of the exchanges, to be deducted from the gross deposits, it will be seen, reaches $26,678,258, five and a half millions over the same week last year. The general movement of the week shows a large liquidation of Loans and Deposits, and in the former a further considerable decrease may be anticipated on the next statement from the heavy payments of Saturday, 4th inst., which count only one day in the present averages. The Specie line, as anticipated, shows a moderate gain.

The week opens on a quiet, steady money market; the demand among the Stock people rather less than at the close of last week, while the Discount Brokers are well employed at 8@9 ₱ cent. for prime bills, 60 days to 4 months; 9@10 ₱ cent. on 5 to 6 months' paper, strictly first-class, and 10@12 per cent. on fair signatures. The Foreign Exchanges, for the Boston steamer, are considerably active, the rates on London, 109¾@109¾; most of the large transactions to-day within 109⅝. Paris 5.17½@5.15. The Sub-Treasury receipts were $253,385; payments, $242,916; balance, $12,242,780. About $490,000 in Bullion is spoken of, for the Boston steamer, principally for Continents account.

The Stock Exchange improved ⅛@¾ ₱ cent. at the early Board to-day, and there was altogether a more confident tone; the heaviest transactions being in Erie for the reopening of the transfers, Oct. 15, and in Reading, which sold up to 63¾. New-York Central participated in the advance and sold 85⅛ cash. The Western Road Stocks steady. Illinois Central Bonds and Missouri States Sixes ¼@⅝ ₱ cent. higher than on Saturday. In the afternoon the general advance was not sustained, and after the adjournment of the Board Erie stood in the Street 62 ₱ cent. and Reading 63, the telegraphic news from Europe via Quebec was read adversely, although really considerably [illegible]

Ours only for a little while,
God claims our darling boy.

The clearances or interchanges between the Banks through the Clearing House last week were one hundred and sixty millions, the largest known to the records of the office since its establishment in October, 1853. The daily average of the exchanges, to be deducted from the gross deposits, it will be seen, reaches $26,678,258, five and a half millions over the same week last year. The general movement of the week shows a large liquidation of Loans and Deposits, and in the former a further considerable decrease may be anticipated on the next statement from the heavy payments of Saturday, 4th inst., which count only one day in the present averages. The Specie line, as anticipated, shows a moderate gain.

The week opens on a quiet, steady money market; the demand among the Stock people rather less than at the close of last week, while the Discount Brokers are well employed at 8@9 ₱ cent. for prime bills, 60 days to 4 months; 9@10 ₱ cent. on 5 to 6 months' paper, strictly first-class, and 10@12 per cent. on fair signatures. The Foreign Exchanges, for the Boston steamer, are considerably active, the rates on London, 109¾@109¾; most of the large transactions to-day within 109⅝. Paris 5.17½@5.15. The Sub-Treasury receipts were $253,385; payments, $242,916; balance, $12,242,780. About $490,000 in Bullion is spoken of, for the Boston steamer, principally for Continents account.

The Stock Exchange improved ⅛@¾ ₱ cent. at the early Board to-day, and there was altogether a more confident tone; the heaviest transactions being in Erie for the reopening of the transfers, Oct. 15, and in Reading, which sold up to 63¾. New-York Central participated in the advance and sold 85⅛ cash. The Western Road Stocks steady. Illinois Central Bonds and Missouri States Sixes ¼@⅝ ₱ cent. higher than on Saturday. In the afternoon the general advance was not sustained, and after the adjournment of the Board Erie stood in the Street 62 ₱ cent. and Reading 63, the telegraphic news from Europe via Quebec was read adversely, although really considerably [illegible]
